The suggestion has been made that a woman be appointed to supervise the planting and care of gardens in the city. Many fundings, it is said, while cager to plant home gardens, have no knowledge of preparing their garden plots. The present chamber of commerce committee, of which R. E. Hines is chairman, which is in charge of stimulating the planting of home gardens in the city, cannot assume the duties of supervising the planting and care of the gardens, it is said. This will be considered at tonight's meeting.

A delegation representing the farmers of the Mesilla valley arrived in El Paso Monday to confer with L. M. Lawson, project engineer of the Elephant Butte dam regarding water rights and irrigation and drainage plans. The delegation consists of H. B. Holt, W. B. Mandeville and Frances E. Lester, accompanied by H. H. Brook, Jona Anxenuty farm agent.

At a meeting in Las Cruces of farmers these men were appointed a committee on resolutions and secured insadoplon among other things of a resolution appealing to the governor of New Mexico to call an extra seasion of the legislature for the purpose of having a bill passed to provide without cost seeds for planting increased acreage in the valley, and also to financially assistive farmers.

Another resolution was passed urging the reclamation service to increase the number of excavators for use in the construction of drainage carait, with a view to expediting the completion of the contemplated drainage system. Unless such action is taken, the resolution will become water logged and rendered uscless.

The resolution also recommends the suspension, during the continuance of the war, of all storage, operation and maintenance charges for water on the project, and that appropriate legislation be emacted by congress to confer the authority requisite for such suspension.

Prisoners from the old county fail will not be transfered to the new county half on top floors of the court house until July 1, according to sheriff Seth R. Orndorff. The new quarters will not be completed and the tiers of cells installed before that date.

A stone wall around the windows of the new fail will screen the view from the street. The prisoners, however, will have a skyline view of El Paso.

There will be approximately 250 cells in the tiers to be erected in the fail of this number there will be 35 in the unin corrider. There are a large number of cells and dornifories for fuveriles and women.

Work of raxing the old court house will not be started before the first week in May. The delay is caused because the county clerk's office in the new court house has not been finished. Clerk William D. Greet and his force will be the last to move.

Marguerite Clark "Valentine Girl"

In This picture the ideal has been secured for Marquerite Clark. It has a piot that is technically perfect and a leading role that fits her as well, if not better, than any is which she has previously appeared. Miss Clark's winsome personality lends liself particularly well to child impersonations and yet, as a "grown up" young lady, she has a certain charm of manner seldom if ever equaled on the screen.

In "The Valentine Girl," she comblines the two in her own inimitable fashion and produces a character that will still further endear her to her El Paso admirers.
